Santa Ana Country Club Scene Of First Student Dance To Be Held Saturday Night When Sophs Entertain Freshies

Overshadowing all former dances, the soph-frosh hop this Saturday evening at the Santa Ana Country club is expected to set a high mark of excellence and put the present sophomore class down in school history.

Futuristic and modernistic atmosphere will prevail, brought out by decorations, favors and music, which will be furnished by the famous Apache orchestra. According to Baxter Geeting, president of the sophomore class and in charge of the affair, the music will be "different" and the best obtained for student dances.

Sophomores are required to pay an entrance fee of 50 cents while freshmen will be admitted free if a freshman "beanie" is being worn. This social event, the first of the school year, will be semi-formal, it was learned from Geeting.

Clara Kate Owens, as social chairman, is supervising the dance, but Geeting and Abbott Mason are also in active charge. The Country club will be completely decorated in futuristic effects. The starting hour is 9 o'clock.

Tavern Post Will Appear Quarterly

Plans to issue "The Tavern Post," official publication of the Literary club, four times a year are being formulated by officers of the organization and work on the first issue will start at once, it was learned from Fred Humiston, president.

To stimulate student work, Robert L. Brown, proprietor of the Santa Ana Book store is offering a rare volume of poetry for the best poem appearing in any of the four issues.

Fred Humiston will act as editor of the publications while Wylie Carlyle will be business manager. Mary Ford, Florence Caverly and Dorothy Harman will be associate editors while the rest of the staff will be picked in the near future.

Jaycee Catalogue Best In California

Santa Ana junior college received the highest rating of any junior college in California on its catalogue it was stated by Dr. Walter Eells of Stanford in his talk at the Pasadena junior college conference at Pasadena, October 12.

Out of a group of 37 junior colleges, Santa Ana was judged to have the best catalogue. The local book was printed entirely in the college print shop, whereas some of the others were by commercial firms.

Jaycee Conference Held At Pasadena

Faculty members from 15 junior colleges in Southern California attended the annual fall conference held at Pasadena, Saturday, October 12.

The total enrollment for all the junior colleges of Southern California has reached 7,366 students as opposed to 4,996 students this time last fall. Los Angeles junior college has the largest enrollment of any single institution with 1,855 students.

In the morning, the visitors were entertained by a speech from Dr. Walter Crasbee Eells of Stanford on a study of junior college catalogues recently made at Stanford. Following Dr. Eells, Dr. Nicholas Ricciardi, chief of this division of secondary schools for the state department of education, discussed proposed new regulation governing the admission, classification, and graduation of junior college students. Reports were then made from all the junior colleges by the student body presidents.

In the afternoon session, Dean Charles Booth of Chaffey made a report on student body finances. Following his report principal John W. Harbeson of Pasadena spoke regarding the new form of junior college system now being tried in Pasadena, the 6-4-4 plan. Dr. Louise Dudley, exchange professor at Long Beach from Stevens college, Columbia, Missouri, discussed orientation courses in junior colleges. The last event of the day was the election of the new officers of the association for the coming year.

Bachelors Prepare For Annual Affair

Chet Page, grand exalted of the Brotherhood of Bachelors, is already making elaborate plans for the annual Bachelors' ball which is scheduled for Saturday, February 15. It will probably be held at the Santa Ana country club.

The next meeting of the organization is to be held at the home of Bob Chapman next Monday evening.

Pledges which received their first degree of initiation last Monday evening have three more weeks to serve. The original six have survived the initiation so far. The pledges are obliged to address all Bachelor members as sir or Mr. If they fail to wear their pledge pin, or happen to lose it, a severe paddling is administered.

The Bachelors have accepted an invitation from the Junior Lions to share a loge party with them.

Plan Rally Meets For Compton Game

In place of a regular assembly today, separate meetings will be conducted for both men and women, it was announced by Robert Chapman, associated student president.

The women will meet in room 11, where reports from the conference at Pasadena will be given. An election of advisory board members will take place, also other important business.

The men will meet in the assembly hall, where plans for the annual interclass pole-rush, which is to occur Friday night, will be discussed. Captains will be elected for both the freshman and sophomore teams, and teams will be chosen to represent each class. A large rally for the Compton game Saturday will be a feature of the affair.

According to statements made by Robert Chapman, a pep club will probably be organized among the boys, to arouse enthusiasm for school activities and games. Support at football games has been very discouraging and it is the aim of the student executives to get the boys organized and give Santa Ana a representative showing at the games.

Women Students Attend Conclave

For the first time in history the Associated Women students and the deans of women in the junior colleges of Southern California have held, separately from four-year institutions, a week-end conference. Pasadena junior college welcomed this first conference.

Marcia Huber, president of the Associated Women students of Santa Ana junior college, Ada Marie Hendrickson and Corinne Nelson accompanied Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women, as delegates.

Scheduled first on the conference program was a formal banquet at the beautiful Vista del Arroyo hotel when deans of some of the four-year as well as two-year institutions spoke. Following the banquet, dancing and the presentation of a comedy by the dramatic club of Pasadena junior college completed the evening's entertainment.

The conference session took place the next morning in the auditorium of the junior college. Words of greeting were extended by John Amherst Sexton, superintendent of the Pasadena city schools and John Wesley Harbeson, principal of Pasadena junior college. The general topic of discussion, "New Opportunities for the College-Trained Woman" was the theme for several excellent addresses. Dr. Bruce Baxter of the University of Southern California closed the morning session discussing, "What Is It All About."

Series Broadcast By Don, Generator

Scores of junior college and high school students were excited guests of the junior college Don and high school Generator, school papers, for the past few days, the publications having installed radios to give the play by play accounts of the World Series baseball games being played in Chicago and Philadelphia.

The Phillies won the series on Monday by beating the Cubs in a thrilling ninth inning rally, 3 to 2. Chicago won the third game, 3 to 1 while Connie Mack's Athletics won the first 3 to 1, the second, 9 to 3 and fourth, 10 to 8.

The radio sets were furnished through the courtesy of the Carleton Radio Service, 1615 East First Street and the Radio Den, 313 North Broadway.

The horns were situated outside of the print shop, where the paper offices are located.

Football, king of all sports will be celebrated Friday night when picked teams of the sophomore and freshmen classes meet in a special pitched battle to decide the supremacy of the school in the annual flag pole rush, a feature of the Compton rally.

Bill Hewitt, chairman of the affair, had few plans up to press time but it will undoubtedly be one of the largest rallies in school history. Vernon Valentine is in charge of the program and is planning to have each member of the football squad say several words with special talks by Coach "Bill" Cook and Captain Herald Hylton. Yells and songs will be led by cheer leaders under large flood lights in front of the hut.

Captains for the teams were to be picked in today's assembly, when all plans and arrangements will be planned. Last year, teams of twenty-five boys vied with each other, with the sophs finally winning when George Tobias, associated students president, was tossed over the crowd and shinned up the pole with the flag.

The rush will be held at 6:30 p. m.

Dons Caravan To Compton Saturday

Santa Ana Dons will travel to Compton in a motor caravan next Saturday afternoon to attend the second league football game, Bob Chapman, president of the associated students, announced Monday evening at a meeting of the executive board.

The caravan will be lead by a state traffic officer. From 20 to 25 cars will be needed to accomodate all those who wish to see the game, so students having available transportation are asked to sign the list on the bulletin board. Last year the caravan proved very popular and attracted a great deal of attention.

Stewart McPherson has been appointed commissioner of mens' athletics to replace Wylie Carlyle, who resigned because he did not have the time to carry out the duties of that position.

361 Student Tickets Sold This Semester

Approximately 35 student body tickets were sold during last week's drive. These sales, together with previous totals, amount to 361 tickets sold out of a possible 425, it was learned today from Stewart McPherson in charge of the campaign.

Tickets at $4 were sold to faculty members, as has been customary in previous years, and $4 tickets which did not entitle holders to Alcols were sold to one semester students.

Editorials

The Last Editorial

Because so few students read editorials the Don is going to discontinue them for the rest of the semester and a short column of brief comment will replace them. It is doubtful if over two per cent of the associated students read editorials. A larger number of teachers undoubtedly read them but if the editorial does not reach the student, its sole purpose is lost. Editorials are supposedly inspirations and advice which keep up the morale of the student organization. Earnest and hard-working editors entertain the idea that they are leading their readers in the straight and narrow path as does the pastor his flock but they are doing nothing more than to gain practical experience in writing.

Once in a while an editor will think he sees the urgent need for reform and will uncover something startling. He is not likely to make this mistake more than once, however. The result will be that no students will see his article and he will be in conference for the next several weeks with irate faculty members. And thereby hangs a tale.

A Real Job To Undertake

It looks as if the executive board wouldn't get much sleep this semester if that body is going to supervise and regulate activities and finances of the 24 organizations in the college. Every club is delighted at the prospect of receiving some financial aid from the associated students and the board will probably be beset day and night with propositions and projects which presidents are trying to promote. The fact is that very, very little aid can be given any organization.

On the other hand organizations which have attempted financial drives in the past and failed will now have the guiding hand of the executive board to advise them and have a much greater chance for success in the future. In other words, it is planned to economize by conducting the various activities on a more business-like basis.

More Funds

Recalling again last week's presidents' meeting, a situation which Mr. Beeman pointed out is a rather peculiar one. He made the statement that the dollar paid each year by sophomores for their Algor pictures isn't received by the yearbook at all but is divided among student activities because of the fact that these pictures actually cost the Algor nothing.

It must be rather disappointing for Mr. Beeman to have to collect money which in no way benefits the Algor. If a tax of one dollar is to be levied upon the sophomore class, why not spend it in making a better yearbook?

Have you noticed some of the girls lately? They come into class (usually about 3 minutes late) pick out the softest chair in the room and after looking at it longingly a bit, gently ease themselves into it with a stifled groan and a muttered curse or so.

The Soph. always solitious of the Frosh, asks,

"What's the matter? Been in an accident?"

"No, standing on the back of my neck."

The Soph gives a gasp of amazement. The nerve of a Frosh wise-cracking that way to a Soph! Well, we'll settle this one.

And so we inquire in our best sarcastic manner, "What class is giving that course this year?"

The Frosh replies (with a deep sigh, dreading to even think of such a subject) "Gym".

We ponder this calm answer to our irony. Then Soph returns.

"Ah, I remember! 'Way back in the days when I was a Frosh. We used to stand on the back of our neck and pump our legs strenuously in the air. The coach called it riding the bicycle."

Frosh, with a shudder, "Yes, that's it."

Now, reader, isn't this a peculiar thing to teach? Why in the days when I learned to ride a bicycle, although it was not unusual to fall on the back of the neck, it was never necessary to keep on pumping. In fact it was practically an impossibility as our legs seemed to straighten out flat of their own accord.

Well as it is said "We go to college to learn," but if you could just get a look at the faces of these poor tortured girls as they climb the stairs it would be the greatest argument ever put up for elevators in the schools.

On the Set

Moran and Mack in "Why Bring That Up" are now playing at the Fox Broadway theatre. The same lingo and droll nonsense which went so well in vaudeville and on the stage has been excellently reproduced.

"The early bird catches the worm" witicism that did so much to popularize the names of Moran and Mack acts as a sort of plot obligatto.

The story, written by Octavus Roy Cohen, is built around their start in the theatrical world and you wouldn't have a bonafide Moran and Mack biography without their constant companion, the much advertised worm.

As added features Fox Movietone news and a Paramount dramatic talking play, "The Bishop's Candlesticks" are being shown.

Excitement, suspense, hilarity and romance. You find them all in Ronald Colman's second individual starring picture and his first chance at a genuine comedy role, "Bulldog Drummond". This United Artists all-talking feature may be seen and heard at the Fox West Coast this week. It is a story of a young, British army officer who is hungry for adventure.

Able supporting Mr. Colman are Joan Bennett, Montague Love, Lilian Tashman, Claude Allister, Lawrence Grant and other names high up in movie fame.

Hammond Host To Executives

Presidents of 24 organizations of Santa Ana junior college and their advisors met with the executive board in the school cafeteria as dinner guests of President D. K. Hammond, Wednesday evening.

Tentative plans and financial programs of the various organizations are informally discussed. It is intended that the executive board regulate in a loose manner the function of all college activities but not curtail them. Clubs in the past have attempted financial drives and other projects which proved unsuccessful so this year the governing board will investigate each project to assure its feasibility before it is carried out.

Activities will be partly financed by associated student body funds, when necessary, in order to guarantee their success and protect students from the necessity of raising money wholly by subscription or benefit sales. This does not mean that organizations may not raise money from other sources, however, declared J. Russell Bruff, advisor to the executive board.

The leader of each organization is to figure out his financial program and have it approved by the executive board before carrying it out. It is not expected that any material change will be made this year in the club programs, Mr. Bruff stated.

Stewart McPherson, now in charge of the associated student ticket sale, suggested that all students carrying 2 1-2 units of college work be required to purchase a ticket, selling them at the reduced price of six dollars, but this plan was branded unfair by several school officials. McPherson had sold 30 tickets by Wednesday evening, making a total of 61 sales for the semester.

Local newspapers will be given 12 complimentary tickets to all football games and the coach, six, members of the executive board ruled at a meeting following the banquet. In answer to an objection to football players passing out complimentary tickets among the associated students, it was decided that every player has the option of presenting his two tickets to anyone he desires.

German Club Elects Hoy New President

Nevin Hoy was elected president of the German club which held its first meeting of the year, Tuesday evening, in room 205. Other officers were Katherine Walbridge, vice-president and John Keeler, treasurer.

About twenty members attended the first meeting of the club which promises to be one of the most active organizations on the campus. After the election of officers and the appointment of committees, a general program was held. The entire meeting was in the German language. Songs, poems and riddles were given by the members, which proved to be very instructive and beneficial.

A general business meeting will be held monthly, the next probably in November. The club also plans for a social affair each semester. All students speaking German are eligible for membership.

"I am satisfied on one thing at last; I found out where my husband spends his evenings," remarked Mrs. Gadaout.

Noted Student Sketches--2

KENCH TANAKA

The second prominent student selected by The Don is the vice-president of the Associated students, Kench Tanaka. Kench is a graduate of Anaheim union high school, entering the Santa Ana junior college in the fall of 1928.

Kench's main activity is athletics, being one of the two men in the college who participated in the four major sports last year. Kench was a prominent member of the football, baseball, basketball and track teams and is going out again this year for all these sports. He is also a member of the Brotherhood of Bachelors, Spanish club and Y. M. C. A. He is now serving the school as vice-president.

While at Anaheim, Kench played two years on the varsity grid squad, two years on the weight teams, four years at basketball and one year of baseball. He was sports editor of the yearbook, a member of the paper staff and held membership in the Spanish and Lettermen's club.

Kench was born in San Dimas 20 years ago, but has made his residence near Anaheim for the past 10 years. He is going on to Berkeley after graduation from the local school and will specialize in agriculture.

Junior Lions Meet At Humiston Home

Stewart McPherson, Junior Lions president, and his committees are at work on several social affairs. Plans are being formulated at present, for a Halloween party. All junior lions and their lady friends are to be invited.

The Lions have also extended an invitation to the Brotherhood of Bachelors to join them in a large party.

Last evening a meeting was held at Fred Humiston's home, where quite a few new members were pledged into the club.

Felix Garnsey, because of too much work, has had to relinquish his position as head of the Lions. The officers of the club are president, Stewart McPherson; vice-president, Wylie Carlyle; secretary, Abbott Mason; treasurer, Bill Hewitt; tail-twister, Delmer Brown; lion tamer, Baxter Geeting.

Chroma Club Plans Year's Activities

No dues, no "drives", no difficult responsibilities—those are the outstanding features which distinguish the Chroma club this year from the usual club organization. At the same time, there will be plenty of peppy meetings and trips of extreme interest.

Having as its main purposes the creation of a greater interest in all fields of art and the stimulation of a keener appreciation for present day art, the Chroma club plans to do away with taxing responsibilities on its members. It is hoped that in this way more students who are interested in art will feel prompted to become a member of the organization.

Miss Goldie Peale, program chairman, has outlined a series of trips which will be educational as well as interesting. These trips are to include visits to famous galleries, art clubs, motion picture studios, and movie stars' homes. The year's work in the club is already well under way, in that there have been two meetings, so far. A third meeting will be held Thursday, October 17, at which time each member will attempt to make a piece of "batik", following the method that was demonstrated at the last meeting by Miss Anna Gilles, art instructor.

Current News Club Formed By Y.M.C.A.

Members of the Santa Ana junior Y. M. C. A. hold discussions on every Wednesday and Friday morning at 7:15 in room 215.

This organization is under the leadership of Lawson Watkins, who is at the head of the Y. M. C. A. religious education this year.

The group has some very excellent discussions on worthwhile topics. The members are now using "Man's Social Destiny" as the text. All men of the campus are invited to attend these gatherings as they are exceptionally worthwhile. Noon discussions are planned in the future; this group will discuss student problems.

The present committee is composed of three students, Leroy Arnold, Eldon Bragg and Joe Crawford.

Program Outlined For Spanish Club

To decide upon plans for the coming year, members of the Cervantes club (Spanish club), met last Friday noon and planned to hold a supper meeting on the evening of Wednesday, October 23 at 6 o'clock.

It was also decided to have outside talent for future entertainments. Several trips which probably will include the Mission Play and other theaters are contemplated for the year.

Officers of the Cervantes club are Mary Ford, president; Vernon Valentine, vice-president; Evelyn Harding, secretary-treasurer; Ed Conner, reporter; Virginia Thomas, refreshments; Leroy Arnold, entertainment and Mary Louise Wallace in charge of the publicity.

Students having had Spanish in college or two years in high school are eligible to join the club.

Hallowe'en Party For Orphan Kids

Goblins, witches, black cats, pumpkins, bats, and other Hallowe'en manifestations will be very much in evidence on the evening of October 30, when members of the O. K. club stage the annual "spook" party.

Abbott Mason, president, has announced that the celebration will be held in the haunted house at Prospect and Bond streets in El Modena. The decoration committee is cooperating with the Press club in fixing up the scene of the party, for the Press club is to hold a party at the same place about November 1.

Officers were elected at the last meeting as follows: Abbott Mason, president; Hazel Guilbert, vice-president; Helen Mayes, secretary-treasurer.

All persons not living with their parents are eligible. If you are interested notify any of the officers.

Committees have been appointed for refreshments, entertainment, transportation and decorations.

Many "live wire" parties were held last year, and judging from the activity of the organization this will be a bigger and better year for the "Orphan Kids" as far as entertainment is concerned.

Dons Play Compton Saturday

Dons Face Acid Test Saturday When
Compton Tartars Engage Santa Ana
Gridders In Second Conference Tiff

After leaping the first hurdle in the conference football race, Coach "Bill" Cook takes his Santa Ana junior college football machine to Compton next Saturday afternoon where he will endeavor to down the Tartars, strong contenders for the crown.

The Tartars are rated as one of the strongest Jaycee aggregations in the southland with a string of pre-season victories of which any junior college could boast.

Many veterans are returning to the lineup from last years squad, especially to the backfield. A few linemen were lost by graduation last spring, but enough prep stars have entered the institution to amply fill the vacancies.

Last year the Tartars won from the Dons by a 13-6 score on Poly field. This year Coach Cook will take his charges to Compton to avenge the defeat suffered last year. Cook believes that it can be done if the elusive Yancey is stopped.

Quite a few minor injuries were sustained by the Dons in last Saturdays game. Thost most important was when George Warner, star end and signal caller, tore some ligaments in his knee.

Cook is grooming Solon Beall, a newcomer to help Warner out. Hal Dunham will also be present if needed. John Dugdale, husky quarterback, re-injured his leg Monday and is out for sometime. Therefore, if Warner has to go out, the Dons will be hard pressed for a signal barker, with the prospect of using either Wayne Garlock and Melvin Beatty, backs or captain Herold Hylton, tackle.

Coach Cook will drill his charges long and hard this week in an effort to iron out the weak spots in preparation for Saturdays tussle. There is still a great apparent weakness in running interference.

Joe Warner is practicing placement kicks each evening by moonlight after the squad has gone in and is rounding into good shape and should prove to be a valuable asset before the conference is over. Crawford and Dutton are doing some good punting lately and are also steadily improving.

Kluthe, Stump and Wallace seem to be the best bets for the "kick-off" job with all of them kicking them about the same distance.

The probable lineup for Saturday

Sophomores Trim Freshmen 34-19

All those witnessing the first basketball game of the season, which took place Monday in the gym, will undoubtedly agree that it was a very fast game to watch. The battle took place between Dorothy Harmon's team of speedy sophomores and Elsiebell Hud's team of flashy frosh, the final result of the game being 34 to 19 in favor of the sophomores.

The first quarter started out very fast, with both teams on their toes, anxious to get the ball through the hoop. The frosh played very well; the players seemed to connect with the ball rapidly. During the following quarters, however, the sophomores gained a large lead over the frosh, who couldn't seem to place the old casaba where it was wanted. Hurd, captain and forward on the freshman team, was the high scorer, while Harman, captain and forward on the sophomores team, made 25 of the sophomore tallies.

Although Hurd's team played quite well, it was evident that the sophomores were the more seasoned team. Fouls were called on practically all of the frosh players.

Goodrich was very good as running center and Westover did very well guarding on Harman's team, while Marshall was the outstanding guard on the frosh team.

The starting lineup was as follows:

Sophomores (34)	Freshmen (19)
Woods Forward	Samuelson
Harman Forward	Hurd
Thomas Jump	Bahr
Goodrich Run	Hendricks
Westover Guard	Marshall
Spicer Guard	Day

Substitutions—Sophomores: Viera. Freshmen: Whistler, Jiminez.

A city visitor, from one of the wind swept states, gazed intently at the spiral fire escape that wound its way down the rear of a thirty story building.

"Gosh," he exclaimed. "That must have been a danged long ladder before the cyclone hit it."

is as follows:

Adams and Beall, ends; Hylton and Stump, tackles; Warner and Crawford, guards; Kluthe, center; Garlock, quarter; Olson and Beatty, halves; Manderscheid, fullback.

Dons Trim Bulldogs 6-0 In Opening Game

Football is on a new high plane here today following the 6-0 victory of Coach "Bill" Cook's Santa Ana Dons over Pasadena at Poly field Saturday afternoon. The Dons shoved over a touchdown in the first quarter and with a great defense made it hold through three periods of great football.

It was the first time that the Bulldogs had been defeated since 1927, having won the conference championship for four consecutive years.

It was anybody's ball game throughout with the Millionaires tossing passes anywhere at anytime. Santa Ana almost earned another touchdown but the gun ended the half with the ball on the Pasadena 4-yard line after the Dons had marched 65-yards down the field.

Wayne Garlock and Jack Dutton showed the Pasadenans a rare exhibition of ball carrying. It was Garlock's work plus some timely plunging by "Red" Manderscheid that accounted for the lone score in the first period. On a blocked kick, Santa Ana took the ball on the 39-yard line. Garlock ran around right end for 9-yards and Manderscheid added 4-yards for a first down. On a reverse, Beatty made 1-yard, then Garlock plowed to a first down on the 17-yard line.

On the next play, Garlock misjudged the pass from center and the ball rolled back to the 25-yard stripe. He ran back, picked it up on the run, dodged two tacklers and proceeded to squirm all the way to the goal line carrying a trio of tacklers over with him.

A drive that nearly ended in a touchdown at the end of the first half was a ballyhoo for the ability of Jack Dutton, plunging fullback. Pasadena kicked to Garlock on the 30-yard line and on the first play, Garlock added 5-yards.
